2. [redacted] by discussing several dynamic factors which will characterize the workforce in the decade ahead. He then outlined how we plan to cope with these factors. The Agency has made a commitment to training as a priority necessary to achieve the expertise required by the challenges that face us. He said the commitment must be across the board and that we have to accept the "investment" concept in training. He explained how each of the major components is responding to the "investment" concept by making people available to help his office train individuals.

3. He also spent some time describing the CT Program and some of the curriculum changes that have been made in it in recent years. He noted that CTs from all of the Directorates are now brought together during their initial training in order to stress the idea of cohesiveness. The staffers indicated that they would very much like to observe CT training [redacted] After the meeting Battaglia called to
